LENS HAS GREAT IRON FOUNDRIES

Is Center of Industrial Region and Important to Warring Armies.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM) WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Lens, toward which the French recently made a tremendous drive on their way northeastward in the direction of Lille, forms the subject of the primer on war geography just issued by the National Geographic Society.

"Lens is a strong iron and steel center. Its great iron foundries supplied a considerable part of the trade of France in peace times, and its engineering works ranked high among similar industries. There is also a large factory for the production of steel cables among its establishments. The place is not upon the tourist's map of France, however, for it is a strictly Modern Business Town, and, before the German lines passed over and beyond it, was full of restless energy, of the unlovely noise and grime of factories, and of the unattractive commonplaces of labor and commerce.

"The region all around is an industrial one. Through this district in the department of Pas de Calais run large coal fields. Lens is one of the centers of coal mining. The town is situated thirteen miles north-northeast of Arras, around which latter place the French and Germans have been fighting with increasing bitterness for months. It is connected by branch line railways with Arras and St. Paul and Bethune, in the south-east and east, and with Lille, twenty-five miles to the northeast. Lille is a railway center and a manufacturing town of first importance. Lens had just before the present war, a population of 28,000.

Frequently Fought Over. "Lens has had an eventful history, as all those cities have had which are scattered through the important northern and northeastern parts of France. Its grounds were frequently fought over during the wars of the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries. The outstanding occurrence in its military history was the great battle fought in its neighborhood by the French and Spaniards in 1648, in which Louis II of Bourbon, Prince of Condé, gained the victory for the French."

REINSTATED

On Chicago Police Years is John Kramer, 70 Years of Age.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—With his heart going thump-thump for pure joy, his head erect and step springy, John Kramer, seventy, is back at work on the police force.

Kramer was first appointed to the force in 1873, when Chicago was not bigger than a village. In September, 1901, he was a first class detective-sergeant and was discharged by order of the civil service commission.

Fourteen years passed. Kramer made application for reinstatement. He alleged irregularities in his discharge.

Judge John Gibbons, himself a septuagenarian and not so long ago slated for "colonization" by his enemies, heard the case. He took one look at the youthful bearing John Kramer and decided that Kramer should be reinstated.

"Seventy isn't so old," mused Judge Gibbons as he entered the court decree.

His Love Letters Win Girl

Practically Entire Town Applauds Romance of a Correspondence Club.

SHERANDOAH, Pa., Oct. 8.—Half the town turned out to welcome Fayal G. Stonebraker, and his bride, who was Miss Leach, Derr, had scorned all the eligible in Berwick, Pa., for the Iowa youth whose acquaintance she made through a Kansas City correspondence club.

In winning love winning letters Stonebraker outshone men of all sorts. Miss Derr's room was filled with photographs of some of the most desperate masculine specimens out of captivity, but it was Fayal that won. He made love with a rush.

Universal System is The Idea

Of the Wireless Telephone Says T. N. Vail in Statement Just Issued.

Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has issued the following statement:

"I do not think that I can better express my views in regard to wireless telephony than to quote the telegram which I have just sent to Mr. Garry, the chief engineer of this company, with reference to a recent wireless telephone talk.

"Garry, I want to congratulate you on yesterday's climax in the way of achievement, the greatest in inter-communication that the world has ever seen. To you and the wonderful staff created by you, the world owes a debt. To throw your voice directly without the aid of wires from Washington to Hawaii, nearly 5,000 miles a greater distance than from New York to Paris, Berlin, Vienna or Petrograd and greater than that between Seattle and Tokyo, was wonderful, but to send the recognized voice part way over wire and part through the air was still more wonderful and was the demonstration of the chiefest use that will probably attach to the wireless as amplifying and supplementing, not substituting the wire system and bring into conversation, communication ships, islands and places which cannot otherwise be reached. Your work has indeed brought us one long step nearer our 'ideal'—a universal system."

SURGEONS MAKE NEW EAR FROM SKIN OF MAN'S NECK

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 8.—Carl Harrington possesses a new ear, manufactured from a piece of his neck. Harrington lost the ear in a wreck on the Northwestern railroad several months ago. Northwestern Pacific physicians in convention here performed the operation, which is declared to be an unqualified success.

Fortune Willed To Cat

Lucky Feline Is Lost but Money Will Be Held in Trust for It.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—John H. Warden used to think a great deal of his pet angora cat, Boyse. In his will he provided that $2,000 be set aside in a trust fund for the care of Boyse at a cat paradise in Massachusetts. The will has just been filed for probate, and Mrs. Warden, to whom the whole estate is left, was asked what she intended to do in regard to Boyse.

"Goodness," she exclaimed, "we gave Boyse away a year ago. I don't even know where he is now."

Rich Widow Adopts A Young Preacher

ASHELAND, Ore., Oct. 8.—The Rev. Arthur R. Blackstone, pastor of the Baptist church here, has been adopted by a wealthy widow, Mrs. Aurelia Ferguson, who has made him her heir. His benefactress's estate is estimated at $100,000.

The minister retains the name of Blackstone. He is a young man with a family. To forestall criticism, he announced the news from his pulpit.
